The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 3-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(clearly anticipated) as being Dublin, Jr. et al.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Carpenter.

Claims 2, 6, and 7 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Applicant's arguments filed June 6, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

With respect to Dublin et al, Applicant states “the only acoustic sensor being one that senses bearing noise when the auxiliary bearing takes no a load previously borne by the primary bearing. This arrangement does not include a second member having a projection which engages a first member for generating an audible sound.” The second member of Dublin is constituted by element 29 mounted on the shaft. When this member comes into contact with a first member (26a) on failure of the primary bearing an audible sound is generated, (column 8, lines 60-62). With respect to claim 3 the member 29 constitutes the claimed tooth. With respect to claim 4, the housing and disk are clearly shown by Dublin.

With respect to the rejection based on Carpenter, Applicant states “Carpenter does not disclose a structure which generates an audible sound, ... but rather relies on various structures using bearing wear to effecting wear through an insulating coating of an element of an electrical alarm circuit in order to effect a completed circuit to a warning device for warning the operator of an impending bearing failure.” The structure of Carpenter does indeed generate an audible sound (bell 36, col. 3, line 3), upon a predetermined amount of wear.

With respect to the rejection based on Raad, Applicant submits “Raad does not disclose a structure which generates an audible sound.” While Raad does disclose the completed circuit generates a warning in response to bearing wear, it does not state that this warning is an audible sound, and accordingly the rejection is withdrawn.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
